

ThyssenKrupp is a worldwide Material and Technology company. The company consist of 188,000 people with working ideas and innovation in more than 80 countries on new product solutions for sustainable development.

Due to the location nearby remediates ThyssenKrupp developed a new integrated steel plant in Santa Cruz, Brazil. The plant was built in joint action with CVRD, the world largest company for extraction of iron ore.

For this cooperation the TKS-CSA Companhia Siderúrgica was established. It is the biggest industrial investment of the last 10 years in Brazil and the first large steel plant which was build since the 1980, in this country.

New Integrated Steel Plant

Thyssen Kruppstahl, Brazil, 08/2006 - 09/2010

PRIMARY

Principal project data

Construction of a new integrated steel plant on swampland.

- Capacity 5 mio. t/a
- Investment of approx. 3 billion Euro

Scope IPS

- Project management + support of the centralised media supply
- Contracting media supply
- Coordination layout and time schedule for media supply
- Technical contract management for media supply
- Project coordination package 1 & 4
- Technical support package 5

IPS operational unit(s)

- IPS Belgium sa
- IPS Germany GmbH

